Recruit + Retain Milestones

by Ron Olson,
Senior Vice Commander/
Membership Chairman

As we begin calendar year 2012 Legion activities, I'll mention a few milestones.

I began my 30th year of membership in the Legion (Post 193 + 1). Our membership in Post #1 was over 2,200. Since then, we moved our location from Leetsdale Drive and Alameda to our present facility. Our membership has declined significantly, obviously, and there is room for improvement. On 1/18/12, we welcomed our newest member, George Snipes, who became #1000 to join, renew, or transfer. George is a transfer from Post 211.

We currently are 92 percent of our goal of 96 percent of our goal set by Department. Thanks to faithful assistant Georgia Sweeney, we are actively pushing upward and onward. We NEED your help in recruiting.

The April edition of The Reveille will be delayed for about a week to allow candidates who wish to run for offices to have a chance to submit their articles.

We are also acknowledging another milestone, the 100th birthday of my friend George Gray Jr. from Post 29. During my years of involvement, George Gray served as Assistant Executive Committeeman and he was District 6 Commander from 1981-82.

For those of you who need to renew or enlist, I try to be available at the Post from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday-Saturday.

Blessings to all of you this year. I'd like to challenge all of us to remember our motto "For God and Country." A challenge in Ecclesiastes 1, verses 8-9, reminds us "the eye never has enough of seeing, the ear if full of hearing. What has been will be again and what has been done will be done again." (NIV)

It's Awesome!

by Glen Stenson

The Post was recently endowed with the gift of a beautiful mosaic replica of the POW/MIA Flag. This tile mosaic was designed and made by Nathan Roubier, and assisted by Dustin Van Hassell. Nathan attends Ridgeview Youth Academy in Watkins, Colorado. Dustin is Nathan's supervisor.

Thanks Nathan and Dustin for the awe-inspiring POW/MIA mosaic.

by Glen Stenson

Presidents' Day will be celebrated February 20, at 10 a.m., at the Post. The program will include patriotic music and readings by Presidents Washington and Lincoln.

The Forgotten Heroes organization will recognize several veterans who have never received their deserved medals earned during their combat experiences. Veterans receiving medals span the time from World War II to Iraq and Afghanistan.

Plan to attend.

Knitters Needed

LCW Post 1 now has a knitting/crochet group that meets on Tuesdays at 10:30 a.m. in the Eddy Smith and Verne Olson room. You do not have to know how to knit! We will show you how to make hats and scarves for homeless Veterans and VA Hospital patients. Come and join us for a rewarding project. For further information contact Becky at 303-758-7793 or Shirley at 303-758-5377.

Commander's Corner

by Commander Glen Stenson

The holiday season ended with a bang, as the Post ended the Old Year and started the New Year with a wonderful New Year's Eve dinner dance. The dinner was delicious and the "Precious Moments" Band kept the dance floor filled well into the New Year.

We start to look ahead to many activities such as the Valentine's Day Dance, the Presidents' Day program, and the annual American Legion Birthday. The culminating activity will be the Post Election and installation of officers in May and June.

At the regular meeting in February, the Commander will appoint an Election Committee (formerly the Nominating Committee) with names to be posted following the Post meeting. The Election Committee will hold at least one public meeting, at which time nominations will be received and considered. Notices of Election Committee meetings shall be posted on the Bulletin Board and on the Post Web site: LCWPst1.org.

The Election Committee makes its report and nominations list at the regular April meeting of the Post. The nomination for Post Commander is made from the floor. Other officer nominations may also be made from the floor. The Post Election is held on the second Tuesday in May, and the installation of officers is the second Tuesday in June.

We have numerous visitors entering the Post as a result of reading our Web site and are interested because of our activities. The visitors consider this Post to be an active Post. WE, all members, should make an effort to tell others what good works are accomplished here.

For God and Country — America is calling — fly your Flag daily.

Thank You

by Glen Stenson

Congratulations and thanks to Al Taylor, Chris Nepute, and Jerry Osgood for chairing and conducting a very successful New Year's Eve dinner dance.

SAL Squadron Commander

by Brandt Erickson

Here we are in 2012. I hope you all had a great Christmas and a Happy New Year. Another year has begun and as usual, the SAL is plenty busy. Because we are so busy, I'd like to stress the importance of being involved with the SAL.

I have mentioned in the past all the good things we do. In order to do this we need to raise money and a lot of it. We do this with our Sunday Breakfasts, our Wednesday Hamburger Nights, and our Special Events. It's important to be a part of this.

Every August the 40/8 has a big picnic for the Colorado State Veterans Nursing Home. That's not one of our events, but the SAL is also there, so that our older Veterans can have a fun day. They probably don't get too many of those. In other words, when needed, we step up to the plate. The more volunteers we have, the better job we can do. Or we can just sit at home and watch some sit-com on TV. It's our choice.

O.K. enough preaching. Our upcoming events for February are:

February 1 is our monthly meeting at 7 p.m.; February 12 is our Breakfast from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.; February 15 is our Hamburger Night from 5 to 7 p.m. We also have our Spaghetti Night on February 23 from 5 to 7 p.m.

Our upcoming events for March are: March 7 is our monthly meeting at 7 p.m.; March 11 is our Breakfast from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.; and March 14 is our Hamburger Night from 5 to 7 p.m.

In the more distant future, on April 14, starting at 1 p.m., will be our Wii Bowling Tournament. This should be a lot of fun. Then on April 21, we will have our Homecoming for our own Department SAL Commander, Scott Garrett. The American Legion Auxiliary has volunteered to do the cooking for this. This will allow us to mingle and have a good time.

That's it for this issue of The Reveille. Stay healthy and safe.

Communication

by Glen Stenson

HELP! HELP! We are again asking the membership for your e-mail addresses to help reduce our printing costs for The Reveille. Rising mail costs, along with printing costs, have placed the Post in the difficult position of discontinuing the mailing of The Reveille. The Post Web site, administered by Randy Thompson, is kept up-to-date with all the latest information about activities in the Post. Those with a furnished e-mail address will receive an e-mail blast to advise checking the Web site. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

Wounded Troops Report Relief From Hyperbaric Oxygen Therapy

DoD Is Waiting For Results From Studies Before Endorsing It

By Patricia Kime

pkime@militarytimes.com

Retired Army Sgt. Margaux Vair believes breathing pure oxygen in a pressurized chamber eased the manifestations of her brain injury — migraines, memory loss and facial paralysis.

Vair, a military policewoman, was on deployment in Iraq in 2006 when her Humvee struck a roadside bomb, smashing her head against the turret and briefly knocking her out. Three days later, she returned to duty and served three more months — until her vehicle rolled over another bomb.

"That's when the nerve problems started," she said. "I don't know when the headaches began."

Today, the Kent, Ohio, resident shows little evidence of paralysis and the headaches have faded — improvements she attributes to treatment in a hyperbaric chamber, the same pressurized units used for healing scuba divers with the bends.

A growing body of anecdotal evidence appears to indicate that hyperbaric oxygen therapy, or HBOT, helps patients with traumatic brain injury and posttraumatic stress disorder.

But the Pentagon wants peer reviewed, scientific evidence before it will endorse HBOT for troops with head injuries or mental health issues.

HBOT is approved to treat 14 medical conditions, including the bends, soft-tissue injuries, acute burns and carbon monoxide poisoning, according to the Hyperbaric and Undersea Medical Association.

Oxygen delivered under pressure also is known to improve the effects of some antibiotics, stimulate white blood cells to fight infection and promote the healing process.

However, oxygen isn't officially recommended for treating head injuries and military leaders say they aren't going to rush to use it for that purpose before it's vetted.

"We need to base therapies on objective clinical data that cannot be influenced by opinions of people who have benefited," former Navy Surgeon General Vice Adm. Adam Robinson told Congress in March.

Two Defense Department-led studies are looking at the effects of HBOT on troops with TBI: an Air Force study initiated in 2008 in San Antonio that was expected to produce preliminary results in 2010; and a two-year, $20 million Army-led study that was to begin in January 2010 at four military medical centers across the nation.

The Air Force study results have yet to be published and the Army study began in October — a snail's pace that has HBOT advocates frustrated. "We've got an epidemic here ... and we're not giving them the treatment they deserve," said retired Brig. Gen. Stephen Xenakis, a former Army Medical Corps officer now on the staff of a Bethesda, Md., hyperbaric oxygen clinic.

There is no standard regimen for TBI, but many practitioners conduct 40 treatments, called "dives," at 1.5 atmospheres of pressure, roughly equivalent to an hour-long scuba trip 33 feet below sea level Vair said she had 40 dives, followed by 40 more, and by her 60th treatment, no longer needed medication like Topamax for migraines and Tramadol for pain. "I wish I had a dive chamber in my basement," she said.

The Pentagon has encouraged troops with TBI and PTSD to volunteer for its studies, and the services have also referred them to HBOT researcher Paul Harch at Louisiana State University, Vair's doctor.

"The sooner these studies are completed, the sooner the optimal hyperbaric treatment regimen, if any, can be determined," said Dr. George Wolf, a researcher with the Air Force School of Aerospace Medicine. Wolf declined to disclose his study's preliminary results but indicated some subjects showed improvement without side effects.

Meanwhile, HBOT enthusiasts are pressuring Congress. Linda Cope, whose son Joshua lost both legs in a bomb blast in Iraq in 2006, spoke at an advocacy forum in Arlington, Va., in November. "Something needs to be done for these people to be whole again," she said. "I thank God for the Hyperbarics. Without it, I don't know where my son would be."

President's Report

by Donna J. Thompson

Our Annual Holiday Fair was held on Saturday, November 26, 2011. A big Thank You to the Legion family members who either assisted with the fair or shopped and bought items from the vendors. Our unit realized a net profit of $1,396.90. This money will be used to make our annual donations to the Veterans Nursing Homes and other programs.

The Third Annual Luau was held on Saturday, January 14, 2012. Unit 1 extends a big Thank You to SAL Squadron 1 for cooking a delicious meal. We appreciate all your efforts. The money raised from the dinner tickets and pig races will go to the Auxiliary Emergency Fund. This fund provides money to Auxiliary members who have had some bad luck and are temporarily strapped for cash.

The Annual District 6 Fundraiser will be held here at Post #1 on Saturday, February 11. It is titled "Can

We Make a Deal" which sounds like it could be a fun evening for everyone. The money raised from this event will go to the Fisher House and also help pay for the Women Veterans Celebration Luncheon.

The Women Veterans Celebration Luncheon will be held here at Post #1 on April 21, at noon. This event is co-sponsored by the District 6 Auxiliary and the District 6 Past Presidents Parley. The event is our way of thanking and acknowledging the women who have served in the United States Armed Forces. I hope many Post #1 family members will be able to join us on April 21.

Unit Meetings are held on the second Tuesday at 7 p.m. Attendance at those meetings allows the Unit members to meet with each other and learn what is going on in the Unit. As President, I encourage all Unit members to attend.

Auxiliary Luau

January 2011 the Auxiliary reserved the January 14, 2012, date for our "I'm Sick of Winter Already Luau." Who would have dreamed that the Broncos would be in a playoff game January 14, 2012?

We had our luau anyway; we had the date first! We had good food, good friends, great fun, and made some money for the AEF! SUCCESS!

The Sons cooked, and we will cook for their Homecoming in April. Fifty people were served wonderful Hawaiian food.

Chris Molloy called the pig races, and the big screen was down, so people could eat, watch football, and bet on the pig races.

Our goal was to raise $1,500 for the Auxiliary Emergency Fund. We cleared $900 as of this writing and we have pledges still coming in from sponsors.

Thank you Entrepreneurs, Memorial, Patriots, Sons, 40 & 8, and Past Commanders for your generous support.

Marine Corps League Files Brief In U.S. Supreme Court

Marine Corps League Files Brief In U.S. Supreme Court in support of the Stolen Valor Act, the Marine Corps League and 24 other military and veterans service organizations filed a brief in the United States Supreme Court seeking to overturn an appellate court decision finding the Stolen Valor Act unconstitutional. United States v. Alvarez, U.S. Sup. Ct. No. 11-210. The Stolen Valor Act, 18 U.S.C. §704, makes it a crime for individuals to falsely claim they have been awarded any military decoration or medal authorized by Congress for the Armed Forces.

In this case, Xavier Alvarez falsely declared on several occasions he had been awarded the Medal of Honor. He was convicted on two counts of violating the Stolen Valor Act and was sentenced to three years probation, a fine, and 416 hours of community service. He appealed his conviction to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. The Court ruled the Stolen Valor Act was "facially invalid" because the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution generally protects false speech, including lying about having earned military decorations and honors.

The Marine Corps League's brief argues the case is not about free speech, but about individuals like Alvarez stealing the goodwill and prestige associated with American military awards for their own benefit. Military veterans earn awards through service, sacrifice, and valor. The Marine Corps League believes it is well within Congress' power to prevent individuals from falsely claiming for themselves the goodwill and acclaim associated with hard-earned military awards and honors.

The Marine Corps League is represented by Michael T. Morley, of the Washington D.C. office of Winston & Strawn LLP, which is generously providing representation to the military and veterans service organizations on a pro bono basis. A decision is expected in the spring of 2012.

Please make a donation to the Marine Corps League at www.mclleague.com.

Help Wanted

Volunteer help would be appreciated. Kudos to Jerry Osgood with building maintenance. He carries out this function alone. We need members that can give a little time in the following areas: electricity, plumbing, carpentry. Tasks are light in nature. Please inform the office if you can spare an hour now and then to lighten the load.

We Honor Veterans

Hospice Of St. John

It may surprise many people to learn that 25 percent of those who die every year in the U.S. are Veterans. To help provide care and support that reflect the important contributions made by these men and women, the Hospice of St. John has become a national partner of We Honor Veterans, a pioneering campaign developed by National Hospice and Palliative Care Organization in collaboration with the Department of Veterans Affairs.

"All hospices are serving Veterans but aren't often aware of that person's service in the armed forces," said J. Donald Schumacher Psy.D., NHPCO president and CEO. "Through We Honor Veterans we are taking a giant step forward in helping hospice and palliative care providers understand and serve Veterans at the end of life and work more effectively with VA medical facilities in their communities."

The resources of We Honor Veterans focus on respectful inquiry, compassionate listening, and grateful acknowledgement, coupled with Veteran-centric education of health care staff caring for Veterans. To learn more about We Honor Veterans or to support this important work via a secure online donation, please visit www.wehonorveterans.org.
